SINGING IN THE JAIL

(to the tune of Singing in the Rain)

I'm singing in the jail
Just singing in the jail
What a glorious feelin'
To be happy in a cell.

God's Spirit's in my heart,
Come down from above
Salvation is mine,
And I'm ready to love.

Let my heart full of joy
Bless every girl and boy
So, put me in that place,
I've a smile on my face.

I'll sing in my cell
While I'm in this jail
Just singin'
Singing in the jail

Dancin' in the jail
Singing in the jail
When the trials come,
I've joy that won't fail

I'm singing and dancin' in the jail!
I'm dancing and singing in the jail!

Why am I smiling
And why do I sing?
Why do hard trials seem
Such a happy thing?
Why do I get up each morning with a grin?

Happy and head up
With joy in my heart?
How can each task
seem such a fun sort of job?
Because I am living a life full of God!

I'm singing in the jail
Just singing in the jail!

When do you find it most difficult to sing praise to God?
