TIPS for parents and teachers

Have the kids write on a slip of paper something that they are really good at. Now ask them to imagine giving that up. How hard would it be?

Spend some time talking about what things Jesus did give up, and what He didn't give up when He came to live among us.

What do missionaries give up when they go to another country?

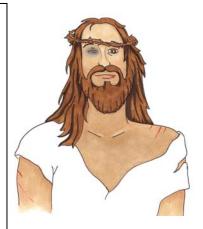

What do we give up when we follow Him, even right in our own homes and schools?

IT'S NOT FAIR!

Ask the kids to think of a time when they got in trouble for something that they didn't do. How did it feel? How did you feel toward the person that really should have been in trouble?

Jesus was in BIG trouble, and had never sinned. He endured being made fun of, beaten up, death, and perhaps worse of all, separation from His Father, because of our sin!

ISAIAH 53

If you have time, read this chapter together. Remind the kids how long before the time of Jesus it was written. Discuss what the unfamiliar words in the passage mean.

Don't forget to check on how the baby plants are doing!
